

In honor of the memory of Joe Roth

MALIGNANT MELANOMA caused the death of Joe Roth. It is a malignant mole which is being seen more frequently today. However, if it is recognized and treated promptly, it has a high cure rate.

The dermatologists of the Bay Area provide the following danger signs as a public service.

- Change in size of a mole
- Change in color of a mole — especially if colors are irregular, mottled, and extend outside the boundaries of the original mole
- Change in mole surface — scaliness, oozing or bleeding
- Feeling of itchiness or tenderness in or around a mole
- Irregular outline or notching of the outline of a mole

If you notice any of the above signs or symptoms, see a doctor.

This announcement donated by Touchdown Magazine and The San Francisco Dermatologic Society